INTRODUCTION

Literature is composition that tells the story, dramatizes a situation, expresses emotions, analyzes and advocates idea's (Robert and Jacob, 2006). Literature is referred to as the entirity of written expression, with ritriction that not every written document can be catagorized as literature in the more exsac sense of the word (Klarer, 2004). The conclusion that can be drawn from some of the writers' opinions above is that literature is a work of art that tells elements of the story by displaying expressions, emotions and language that are directly related to human life. According to (Wellek, Warren, 1977), the causes and consequences are not commensurate: the concrete results of this extrinsic cause, artwork is always unpredictable. Wellek, Warren (1963) define literary terms seem best if we limit them to literary art, namely imaginative literature. Literature is also created by the author's fictions. Literature is not only fact papers or a collection in pure events. It also make some products from unlimited imagination. Literature is the whole written expression in imagination, which explains definition of life and nature.

The research process from reading of novel (The Good Earth). There are many statements for someone who works all day to get something which can make their life to be better than before. Why people work hard is caused by the family factor, economic factor, and others that influence people to do something. I choose this novel because there is a power of human being. A different culture of the country, different region environment, and different social class are the reason why the novel entitled The Good Earth is chosen. Another reason is a writer whose name Pearl Sydenstricker Buck, the novel has a feeling of the writer also meaning power. Buck become one of greatest writer that won Pulitzer Prize in 1932. This article is not also far away from the statement of the problem and purpose of the problem. This study only focuses on how Wang Lung broke on the wife O-Lan. Women during traditional Chinese society, such as the role of the O-Lan character as a wife in the family. Here the author will explain further about how the main character O-Lan is described as a woman in a traditional Chinese family? Betrayal Seen In The Good Earth Novel
In chapter 18 beginning betrayal seen in the good earth novel when Wang Lung got rich, and started looking at his wife O-Lan.

Then it was that looked at O-Lan, his wife, as a man looks at the women whose body he knows throughly and satiation and who has lived beside him so closely that there is nothing he dose not know of her and nothing new whichhe may expect or hope from her. And seemed to Wang Lung theat the looked at O-Lan for the first time in his life and he saw for the first time that she was a woman, woman no man could call other than she was, a dull and common creature, who plodded in silence without thought of how she appeared to others. (The Good Earth, p.167).

“Now anyone looking at you would say you were the wife of a coomonfellow and never of one who has land which he hires man plow!" it was firs time he had ever spoken of how she seemed to him and she answered with a slow painful gaze. (The Good Earth, p.168).

In chapter 19

All during that hot summer Wang Lung loved thus this girl.. (The Good Earth, p.182).

Every day Wag Lung went to the tea shop; every evening he waited until she would receive him, and every night he went into her. Each night he went in and each night again he was the country fellow who knew nothing.

In chapter 20 is the beginning of the betrayal starting when Wang Lung wants to have a woman named Lotus, by asking for help from his uncle's wife to persuade Lotus to want to stay in his palace house. And to prepare for Lotus arrival Wang Lung renovates the house, buys expensive food and tells O-Lan to clean the house, so it scare her.

Now Wang Lung could not bear to sleep anymore with O-Lan and he said to himself that with two woman in the house there must be more rooms and another court and there must be a place where he could go with his love and be separate. (The Good Earth, p.193).

So much is his love for Lotus that Wag Lung wants to be with Lotus every night, every day, that Wang Lung thinks he doesn't want to sleep with his wife again, the O-Lan.

DISCUSSION

1. Confidentiality

Confidentiality is something that is intentionally hidden so that no one else knows it. Affair is basically interpreted as something that leads to certain behavior and become part of the element of dishonesty. In the marriage life it is important for spouses having an openneus thinking and attitude to avoid occurring an affair. Confidentiality was not be hidden because it was revaled. How the carcass was closed tight it was smalled too.

In this research, the researcher uses the types affair based on emotional involvement there is romantic love affair that had been a deep emtional connection.

Sexual attaraction is something that cannot be controlled intentionally. Someone cannot force it to arise or disapper. (Decker, 2015) explained that sexual is a sex orientation in which a person will only have sexual attarction with ananother people. A lot of people after had been create emotional involvment at first layer, that is towards the physical of other people both they had a deeper personalities before.
